

TRIFOLD LAYOUT TEMPLATES

Print these pages on standard letter paper, cut along the solid borders, and glue the panels onto a 36 by 48 inch tri-fold board. Each block is sized so a judge can read it from three feet away. Type or write your content in the space provided before cutting.

Printing tip: choose Actual Size or 100 percent in your print dialog rather than Fit to Page, so the blocks keep their proportions.

WHERE EACH BLOCK GOES

BLOCK 1: TITLE, NAME, SCHOOL, GRADE
LEFT PANEL Block 2: Question Block 3: Hypothesis Block 4: Materials Block 5: Procedure	CENTER PANEL Block 6: Data table Block 7: Graph Block 8: Photos	RIGHT PANEL Block 9: Results Block 10: Conclusion Block 11: Applications Block 12: Acknowledgments

BEFORE YOU CUT

Keep body text at 16 point or larger and headings at 24 point or larger. Leave white space so the board does not feel crowded. Use color with restraint.

CUT ALONG THE BORDERS

TITLE AND LEFT PANEL

PROJECT TITLE, NAME, SCHOOL, GRADE

BLOCK 1

Largest text on your board. Title first, then your name, school, and grade below it.

QUESTION

BLOCK 2

The question your experiment answers, in one sentence.

HYPOTHESIS

BLOCK 3

Your if, then, because statement.

MATERIALS

BLOCK 4

List everything you used, with amounts.

PROCEDURE

BLOCK 5

Numbered steps, detailed enough that someone else could repeat your experiment.

CUT ALONG THE BORDERS

CENTER PANEL

The center panel carries your evidence. Paste printed tables, graphs, and photos into these frames rather than writing in them.

DATA TABLE

BLOCK 6

Paste your printed data table here. Include units in every column heading.

paste here

GRAPH

BLOCK 7

Paste your printed graph here. Title and axis labels with units are required.

paste here

PHOTOS OF THE EXPERIMENT

BLOCK 8

Paste two or three photos showing you doing the work.

paste here

RIGHT PANEL

RESULTS	BLOCK 9
What happened, in plain language, with your key numbers.

CONCLUSION	BLOCK 10
Did the results support your hypothesis? An unsupported hypothesis is still a result.

REAL-WORLD APPLICATIONS	BLOCK 11
Why your finding matters outside this fair.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS	BLOCK 12
Who helped, and what each person did.	